THE TROUBLE OF FORMING THE BRITISH CABINET.

Lord Northbrook Consents to Become a Member of Dr. Mr. Gladstone and the Plan of Campaign in Ireland—The Bulgarian Deputation—Other Foreign News and Gossip.

LONDON, January 24.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to a request from the Welsh radical club for his views upon the matter, declines to express any opinion on the plan of campaign in Ireland. He says:

"I cannot discuss what is going on in Ireland upon the partial and fragmentary evidence, and will defer judging the government's conduct until I hear in parliament what is said for and against it."

made public, refers to a speech recently made at Birmingham by Mr. Chamberlain as an utterance that ought to lead to the securing of modus vivendi between the present opposing sections of the liberal party. As for himself, Mr. Gladstone says he would be glad of any means to bring about a free discussion of the differences dividing the liberal party in order to obtain such common action as might be consistent with the respective principles of the sections.

meeting of the leading members of the Radical Union to consult upon terms of compromise. No party, however, believes that the conference would result successfully. The Farnellites are the supreme obstacle to the compromise, and they will not brook anything short of the submission of Chamberlain. A speaker at today's meeting of the National league at Dublin declared his unabated distrust and hatred of Chamberlain.

It is considered improbable that a change will be made in the foreign office. Lord Idles-ture, and Lord Salisbury denies that he has been offered the foreign portfolio. Necessary changes in cabinet are few in number, and it is thought will not be of a startling character. Lord Salisbury is said to be much annoyed by what he terms the mischievous gossip of newspapers. The cabinet council has been postponed until Saturday. Lord Salisbury finds that progress in the reconstruction of the cabinet is impeded by party rivalries over Goschen's appointment. The whole influence of the Carlton club is exerted to persuade Lord Salisbury Idleleigh pleads that he is in bad health and unable to sustain the fatigue of the foreign office, and he will persist in his determination to retire. Viscount Cross is uncertain as to what he shall do. The only positive result announced today has been the earl of Northote's consent to join Mr. Goschen in the conservative cabinet. It has not yet been decided what portfolio will be given him.

Conservative opposition is mainly directed against Lord Northbrook, partly because he is suspected of sympathizing with Mr. Gladstone.

To Salisbury's foreign and Indian policy. When Salisbury was in the Indian office, in 1875, Northbrook resigned the viceroyalty of India because he differed with Salisbury on the latter's late Afghan policy. Goshawke insists upon nominating two cabinet colleagues, the conservatives prefer the marquis of Lansdowne to the earl of Morley.

Mr. Gladstone's letter, commenting upon Chamberlain's recent speech, was addressed to Sir William Vernon Harcourt and concluded with a significant intimation that the recipient could make what use he liked of it. Sir berlain, who in reply expressed his desire for a conference.

The National League—An A Letter from Mr. Gladstone—The Irish Trials.

DUBLIN, January 4.—At the fortnightly-meeting of the executive committee of the national league held today, different speakers ridiculed the idea that Mr. Goschen's acceptance of the chancellorship by the exchequer would be a "bait" to tempt the Irish to give up their struggle for independence.

The trial of the case against Dillon, O'Brien, Sheehy, Harris, O'Reilly and Redmond for alleged conspiracy in receiving rents as trustees under the plan of campaign was resumed today. All the defendants were present, excepting Redmond and Harris, who were both absent on account of illness. Harris, who is a Parnellite member of parliament for East Galway, is suffering from hemorrhage of the LIMERICK, January 4.—Mr. Gladstone, in a letter to the mayor of Limerick, thanking him for his congratulations tendered to the ex-governor on the attainment of his seventy-seventh year, writes as follows: "Since I received the Irish deputations at Hawarden there has been fresh encouragement for the hopes then expressed. May God prosper the design in which the peace and happiness of these three kingdoms is so deeply interested."

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION.

Trouble. VIENNA, January 4.—Russia has suggested as a basis for negotiations between the signatories to the Berlin treaty for a settlement of the Bulgarian question, that the Bulgarian regent resign; that a new sobranje be elected by the Bulgarians only; that two Zankoffites be admitted into the Bulgarian cabinet; that Prince Nicholas, of Mingrelia, be proposed to be sobranje for the Bulgarian rulership and that an ordinary provincial assembly be controlled for Roumelia.

Cholera in Chili.
LIMA, via Galveston, January 4.—Much alarm has been created here by the official announcement that cholera exists in Chili. Strict sanitary precautions are being taken to prevent the introduction of the disease into this country. An Indiana Election Contest.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., January 4.—The supreme court this morning affirmed the decision of the lower court in the lieutenant-governorship case, in effect declaring that Green Smith, the democratic claimant, had no standing in the court. ## THE HAND OF GOD

FALLS HEAVILY UPON A WICKED BLASPHEMER.

A Wonderful Story From Coffee County—Will Burkett Cures His Creator and Is Stricken With Paralysis—The Death of the Victim's Daughter—A Terrible Warning.

DOUGLAS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—"I hope that God may paralyze me," were the words spoken by William Burkett. At once his hands dropped to his side, his legs refused to move, and his eyes rolled wildly around. His prayer was answered, as he stood paralyzed on the spot where but a few moments before he was a magnificent type of physical manhood.
He tried to speak, but his tongue would not move. Half a dozen men, who were present, were rendered motionless by the evident visitation of the hand of God. When they recovered self-possession, they tenderly moved the afflicted man to his residence, a half mile distant.
When Miss Rodney Burkett saw the plight in which her father was brought home, she screamed and fainted, and died a few days later.

For years Mr. Burkett had been the ferryman on the Hawkinsville road, crossing of the Ocmulgee river.
He was of giant physique, with long gray locks, and became especially noted because of the brace of revolvers which he kept strapped to his waist. He was a great hunter, and the ferry being in the midst of a swamp, he was convenient to an abundance of game.
From those who lived around him it is learned that he was fearfully profane. Whenever he sighted game and was called off from it by an alarm from the ferry, he would pour out such a volley of oaths as would make the flesh of ordinary men crawl. It was while in one of these profane spells that he heard his creator, and wound up with the expression above quoted.

The news soon spread through the country, and scores of people called to see the victim.
He was at first completely prostrated, but subsequently was enabled to take a few steps, when he would fall. When spoken to he replies in an inarticulate mumble, and acts in the most idiotic manner. The physicians can ascribe no natural cause for his affliction, but admit that it is a visitation of God. The preachers in the neighborhood have used the incident in their sermons with great effect.

OSTERS ON THE TABLE.

The Ladies of Conyers Give an Entertainment.

CONYERS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The order supper at the courthouse, given by the Ladies Aid society of the Presbytery of Conyers, has by common consent been accorded the first place in the joy-producing events of the season.
Amid all the abatement incident to midwinter a happy assemblage from town and country celebrated the anniversary of the feast of the Three Kings, and as the result a goodly number of church repairs. All seemed as calm as home as if they had been members of the same family. The feast was superb. Nothing surpassed the varied elegance of good cooking, the rollicking and the winning smiles of the fair servants.
Everything passed off as sweetly as the music of a marriage bell.

MATED FOR LIFE.

The Marriage of Miss Davis and Mr. Seals in Greensboro.

GREENSBORO, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The event of the season was the marriage, at 5 p. m., of Miss Victoria E. Davis to Mr. Alec S.
Seals. Miss Victoria is the accomplished and charming daughter of Mr. C. A. Davis, the resident merchant and noted capitalist of Greensboro. Mr. Alec Seals is the buyer and one of the leading members of the firm of Copelan, Seals & Armour of Greensboro, who do the large retail business in the middle of the state. The marriage ceremony was performed at the Baptist church in Greensboro, Dr. W. A.
Montgomery officiating. The young couple have gone on an extensive bridal tour, which will take in Jacksonville and other points in Florida.

NEW BANKS IN ATHENS.

The Distribution of Money to Be Made Easy.

ATHENS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The legislature granted two charters for banks in Athens. The Exchange bank, with paid in capital of $50,000, with Mr. R. C. Beavers as head, and to the Athens Loan, Banking and Savings association, with a capital of $50,000.
The former bank will be organized in a few days, as everything is ready for business. The latter association was gotten up by Messrs. B.
Russell, and is also assured. It will open doors about the first of February. It will do a general banking business, with a savings department. It will also negotiate loans on commission, and do a general brokerage business.

CHATHAM'S COUNTY CONTEST.

The Great Contest Centering Around the Coroner.

SAVANNAH, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The election for county officers will be held to-morrow. A great deal of interest is exerted in regard to the result. The only opposition is for coroner and recorder of tax returns. W. D.
Dixon, the present coroner, is opposed by Joseph Goett and John Fox. Captain Dillon, reever, will be opposed by M. J. Dooner. It is thought the old ticket will be re-elected with the possible exception of coroner, for which office the race will be very close.

Business Changes in Elbert.

ELBERTON, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The New Year has brought but few business changes in Elberton. Mr. J. P. Chandler has bought Mr. J. P. Bailey's interest in the house of H. F. Chandler & Co., and has probably sold his interest in the firm of Chandler & Adams.
Messrs. M. M. Hamilton & Co. have opened a general store in the house formerly occupied by the gangsters. Mrs. Campbell, formerly of Hartwell, has opened a large boarding house in Elberton. Mr. Myers Myers has removed from Elberton to Athens, where he will enter the mercantile business.

An Old Society.

and an enjoyable supper was indulged in.

R. A. Richards, of this place, died yesterday evening after a sickness of only a day and a half. She was taken Sunday morning with something like pleurisy and Sunday night she became paralyzed. She will be buried to-morrow.

Warm With Campaign Liquor.

ATHENS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—Will Watkins, a colored politician, was thrown from his buggy and received a fearful shock in the head, besides bruises in the side and back. He was warm with campaign liquor.

The Epileptic in Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The street cars are stopped by the sick dying up from epilepsy.

Cataract is a constitutional disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a constitutional remedy. It cures cataract. Give it a trial.

THE ANSWER FROM THE POOR.

Their Claims are Always Ignored by the Rich.

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., January 3.—[Special.]— The recent article in THE CONSTITUTION describing the poverty of those who till the land has been widely discussed here, and its cause weighed for. Among those who freely talked upon the question was Mr. J. F. Jones, a successful planter. He said:

"Pooling interests and making corners among the country syndicates was the answer given me today by one of my tenants. The question as to what would be the final result of so much suffering among the poor, this tenant answers by saying that Henry George's platform will be adopted, perhaps, for relief.
Said he, after reading the article above alluded to, 'The capitalists and landlords are liberal enough when to their own interest, but are assailable on account of their extreme greed of the endurance of the poor. The claims of our poor are spurned by them as visionary. These syndicates may deny labor unions and regard the Knights of Labor as disturbers of the peace, call them socialists, nihilists, and as is common, anarchists, but it will require a Jackson to flank or penetrate their ranks.'

"Now this tenant is a man of good moral character in the community, but a poor man with large and growing family, whose dependence for bread solely depends upon his land. By unfair means he says he is deprived of the profits in his last year's crops by organized syn-dicates, and cannot do better. Since Henry George got 68,000 votes in New York, and strikes among laborers are so frequent of late, my observation is that more interest than ever before is manifested by the poor people of the country in the taking and reading of newspapers. Just so regular as I get my papers does my tenants call for and read them. Among them are many who, with opportunity, would make leaders. Men but in log cabins have been made presidents, and among the tenants of Georgia there is good material for successful leaders in any enterprise, and who knows what is to be the result?
Farmers can stand a strike in the cultivating season, while these men would ruin the majority of our planters. The seasons won't wait for us as did the sun for Joshua of old, and like Bill Arp, I am in favor of harmony.
All get in from my land."

"There is no doubt but that trouble will come if legislation continues in the interest of speculators and developers, instead of in the interest of the poor, who form nine-tenths of the population."

HODGSON WILL BE SWORN IN.

But There Will Be a Dispute Over One of the Aldermen.

ATHENS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—Tomorrow morning Hodgeson will be sworn in as mayor. There will doubtless be a hitch over the contested seat in the second ward that must be decided by the members. The question will be whether or not Altemus Murray holds office until the decision of Judge Hutchins is rendered; and if he is seated, it is legal for council to proceed to the election of the city officers in defiance of the fact that a contest is pending?

The Military Academy Falls.

Georgia military academy was sold today at the city's sale, and the proceeds of the sale, toward the sale of the academy, and the academy was built four years ago, at a cost of $10,000, on two lots, costing $4,500, and was bonded for $15,000. It paid the first two years, and has been a failure since.

today:

The Davidson place, on Rose hill, to A. V.
Boatright for $1,015; two houses and lots in the city belonging to John Ryan to C. A. Prather for $7,025.

The New Bank Officers.

AMERICUS, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Americus this morning, Messrs. John Windson, A. W. Smith, U. B. Harrell and E. J. Eldridge resigned their places as directors, and in their stead were elected Messrs. H. C. Bagley, S. R.
Hawkins, G. W. Glover and J. E. D. Shipley.

Charged with Forgery & Note.

DONALDSONVILLE, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]— J. H. Smith has been arrested and is now in jail, charged with forging a note on E. Polk, deceased, for $500. His commitment trial takes place before Judge R. A. Massey, of the county court. This is not J. H. Smith, of the firm of Smith, Dorsett & Co.

SPARTA, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—The Mason's bid was sold today at a public sale, and was bid in by Mrs. Ferguson. The bid was for $6,000. She has already been offered a considerable advance on her bid.

officers. The total number of votes cast was 48.

THE DAILY NEWS BRIEFED.

Waco is to have a new school house.

There will be a new weekly paper in Summerville soon. It will be run by a stock company under the name of the "Columbia." The stockholders are the names of D. F. Allgood, John S. Cleghorn, Thompson Hiles, G. D. Hollis, W. H. B. Coleman and others.

Dr. Gilbert, of Columbus, was summoned to see a negro on the Hudson plantation, but when he arrived the negro was dead. He stated before his death, however, that he had been given medicine by an old negro woman in Girard, and that after he had taken it, he told him that the woman was his sister.

Joseph Wright, a colored man who lived on Colonel Boyd's place, in Dougherty county, was killed last night by a shot from a gun. The Colonel Boyd's place, but whose name we did not learn. It seems that they engaged in a quarrel while leaving the city together, and Joseph Wright was shot with a shot gun charged with bird shot.

The other night a negro man living in Clarke county, concluded last Saturday night to wind up Christmas with a loud noise and procured a section of a guano distributor made of cast iron, and loaded it with gunpowder and blasting pipe. The pipe was two and a half or three feet long and when loaded up to the brim held quite a quantity of powder. The powder was then blown down into the ground, covered it all up except the fuse and touched her off. Such an explosion has not been heard in Clarke county in many years, and many people thought it an earthquake. Windows rattled and people fled from their chairs a mile away from the explosion.

Why RUN AWAY FROM YOUR Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, or Induced any Pulmonary or Bronchial complaint, when a remedy safe, thorough, and so easily obtained as Dr. J. D. Jayne's Expectorant can be had? If you have contracted a severe Cold, save your lungs from the dangerous irritation and inflammation, which frequently brings about Consumption, by promptly recouring to the Expectorant; and if troubled with any Affection of the Throat, you will find this remedy equally effective in relieving you from obstructing phlegm, and in healing the inflamed parts.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A SEPTUAGENARIAN LOSES HIS LIFE IN MACON.

Anderson Robertson Stricken With Paralysis Falls in the Fire and Is Fatally Burned—A Wagon Rush and a Fatal Result—Public Sale—Anti-Treating Society—Other News.

MACON, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning old man Anderson Robertson, who was an ancient dandy between seventy and seventy-five years of age, living near the laboratory, rose as usual, and seated himself in a chair by the fire. His aged wife left the house and went out to get some wood. Shortly after she reached the wood pile she heard a wild shriek of anguish from her husband, and hurrying inside she found him struggling on the hearth, with his clothing in a blaze. She got him out of the fire as soon as possible, and after considerable effort she succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

All was done that could be done for the old man, but to no avail. He lingered unconscious for some hours and died.

It is supposed that he was seized with a paralytic stroke and fell forward into the flames, and his age and afflictions prevented his being able to extricate himself until he was fatally burned.

Mr. Johnson, who lives near the scene of the tragedy, reported the facts to your correspondent. The old man was buried in a county cof-in today.

At Which Some Very Valuable Property was Disposed of.

MACON, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—Today was public sale day for the federal, state, county and city authorities. The United States marshal's sales were William A. Maxwell, Lee county, lands purchased by Fred Cook, for $1,650. The State property, purchased by Charles

The third lot, to James Danneberg for $500, and the fourth to Henry Horne for $1,400.

The Wade place, on Third street, was sold to A. J. White for $2,000.

The other sales were as follows:

Flora C. Artope property, comprising the marble yard on the corner of Second and Pine streets, purchased by Dr. Artope for $855. The same was shown to near Andrew's place, on Third street, and colored, for $112. The big sale of the day was the Agnes Farmer property, consisting of the Whitefield farm, near East Macon, a house and lot and four acres of land, property appraised at $26,000. The farm of 200 acres was bid in by Mr. W. H. Jones, of East Macon, for $3,050. The dwelling house and lot on First street sold to W. T. Shiloh for $1,070. The Cotton Cotton, on the corner of Second and Pine streets, purchased by James Danneberg, the first two for $2,000 and the last for $1,400. The bidding on this property was very spirited, and the whole property brought $26,000 or $26,000 more than the appraisement.

ANTI-TREATING SOCIETY.

Judge Freeman's Proposition to the W.
C. T. U.

MACON, Ga., January 4.—[Special.]—Judge M. R. Freeman has written the following letter to the W. C. T. U. of this city, which was responded by Walter B. Hill today.

MACON, Ga., January 3, 1887.—To the Women's Christian Temperance Union: May I suggest to you, and the ladies of this city, to organize an organization of a society suggested by the late Colonel R. H. Johnson. I heard him say on several occasions that he had tried to organize an "Anti-Treating Society" (using any other name if a better one could be suggested) he would engage a hall, pay all the expenses, and keep it open week for week; that he was satisfied that the great evil of intemperance was not so much in the love of the drink as it was in the habit of drinking, and by others, and reciprocating the mistaken kindness, custom of the American people that was in his opinion responsible for the great evil of intemperance that has grown so enormously. And if the ladies would, by their influence, get together and come this growing evil would suggest, that he felt satisfied a great revolution would be the result, especially among the young men of the country.

An oath or obligation similar to this was also proposed by him to do nothing but to keep it that I will not ask any one to drink, or accept a drink offered by any one of my spiritual or moral liquors, wine or beer, neither will I give or to any one such liquor, wine or beer, except by advice of a regular practicing physician, in cases of sickness, or for the purpose of which I am not a member of this voluntary obligation."

He also suggested that medium size cards be in-sued with this obligation, and that they be inserted in duplicate to all the young men in this city with a request that they sign and return it to the ladies of the Temperance union for register, and keep the other for exhibition and to call attention to the fact that they are entirely abstemious or lecturers, would be a matter of conference to be determined at a meeting or meeting of the ladies, and for the purpose of which the advice and counsel of the ladies could be had.

The above is as near as I can recollect Colonel Johnson's ideas, and I have endeavored to give you a true and correct statement of his views and consideration. Very respectfully yours, MATT R. FREEMAN.

The Women's Temperance Union has taken no action yet, but they are considering the matter. The organization of such a society would no doubt meet with favor among the young men of the city, and the idea is certainly in the direction of reform.

POLICE POINTS.

consent of the property holders in the taxed and the tax collected from Bostwick.

The committee on the subject of the tax, appointed by the council, reported in favor of paying the tax twice, and asked that the money, $10.25, be refunded. Referred.

The sexton's report was received. $37.16 paid, $37.16 received.

Mr. J. S. McCarty granted certain encroachments adjacent to his property.

The committee on hospitals and charities reported bids for wood, $3.10; another from Smith of pine at $2.75, and fifty of oak at $3.00.

The committee reported adversely on an or-

The committee reported in favor of supporting a resolution in regard to the fences around Wesleyan, and that all operations be suspended for the present.

An ordinance was submitted by Alderman Cannon, making the feeding of stock on the principal streets a misdemeanor, with five dollar penalty. Referred.

The fire department reported in favor of a paid fire department, and that twenty-five thousand dollars be appropriated to organize and support it.

A resolution was then offered that the commissioners of the city of Macon, P. H. Smith, and W. A. Davis, visit Atlanta and examine the cost of running the department there, and report back to the council, at which time the adoption of the report will be considered.

The license ordinance was read the second time, and with some alteration was passed.

The most important change was the fixing of patent medicines vendors' license at fifty dollars per week, no license to be issued for less than a week.

POSTPONED TWO WEEKS

CURIOUS DEVELOPMENTS IN THE
JONES MURDER CASE.

One of the Jurors a Cousin of the Defendant's Wife.
The Court Rules That He Cannot Serve A Motion for a Continuance Against Other Incidents and Criminal News.

When the superior court met promptly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the crowd of visitors in attendance was not near so large as on the opening day of the trial. The defendant was dressed in a new suit of dark clothes. During the proceedings he occupied a seat next his counsel, and while he manifested an unflagging interest in what was going on, he seemed neither depressed nor worried.
The following attorneys of counsel for the accused were present: J. M. Collier, J. B. Ellis, and James L. Murphy. A pile of law books: Rufus T. Dorsey, Albert Cox, A. B. Culbertson and H. L. Culbertson, Solicitor-General C. D. Hill and his assistants for the prosecution, Messrs. W. D. Ellis and James R.
Gray, sat together behind a table not far from the other lawyers.

A IMPORTANT INCIDENT.

Solicitor General Hill stated to the court that had been brought to his attention that one of the jurors who were empaneled in the case of the state vs.
R. L. Jones, for murder, was a cousin of the defendant's wife, and that the juror, James L. Murphy, was clearly disqualified by virtue of that relationship.

BOTH SIDES HEARD.

The solicitor-general briefly stated why he regarded the relationship existing between Murphy and Mrs. Jones such as to disqualify him from serving. He could, he said, present abundant authority to authorize the court in rejecting the juror for the reason assigned.

Mr. Ellis and Judge Dorsey stated that they could produce authority to show that the relationship established by the juror and the prisoner was not of such a nature as to prevent his serving on the jury.

THE COURT'S DECISION.

Judge Clarke considered the matter a few minutes, then he signed the order.

The State vs. R. L. Jones, Murder, in Fulton superior court, Fall term, 1886.—It appearing to the court in reading of the indictment in the instance in the above stated case, and before the introduction of any evidence therein, that James L.
Murphy, one of the jurors impaneled and sworn to try said case, is a cousin of the wife of said defendant, it is ordered that said Murphy be withdrawn from the jury for such cause, and that the jury be completed from a panel to be furnished by the court. This January 4, 1887.

A MOTION FOR A CONTINUANCE.

As soon as the court had announced its decision, Mr. Hill said he would formally move the case be continued. He did not hesitate to say that to go on with the case with the present jury would be a judicial farce. "I feel impelled to make this motion," continued he, "because I don't believe there is any possible chance to get a fair trial before the jury as now constituted. I don't ask to have it continued beyond this term, but I only insist it shall be continued until we can get an other jury."

A CONVERSATION ABOUT MURPHY.

Mr. James R. Gray, at the solicitor-general's request, made a conversation with J. I. Grier, one of the jurors. Mr. Gray stated that in the conversation yesterday, prior to the decision of the court regarding the jury, he had approached Grier, whom he knew had been in business with Murphy, and that he had inquired of him as to what make Grier replied that he believed Murphy would make a good one.

THE SOLICITOR-GENERAL ADDRESSED THE COURT AS FOL-LOWS:

"Now, I submit that in the interest of justice this case ought not to go on. It has been clearly shown that Murphy is disqualified as a juror, yet he has been sworn in as such. He is sworn in as a juror and both of them spent the night with the other members of the jury. In view of these facts, I submit that to go on with the trial is a judicial farce. I don't ask to have it continued beyond this term, but I only insist it shall be continued until we can get an other jury."

JUDGE DORSEY EXPRESSED HIS VIEWS.

Judge Dorsey said he did not think it necessary to sum up what had been said. The defendant was in the clutches of the law. The jurors have been regularly drawn. Neither the defendant nor the court had anything to do with the making up of the jury, and neither is responsible for Murphy having been drawn. All the jurors were put upon their voir dire, and the court ruled them to be qualified. One of these jurors is proved to be disqualified, and the court has promptly issued an order to withdraw him and supply his place.

MR. COX HAS HIS SAY.

Mr. Cox said he had only one remark to make:
That is, that the discharged juror is related to Jones's wife, and that fact having been proved he has been ordered to be discharged. The instructions made against him by the attorneys on the other side ought to be rebuked by the court. He did not believe a man should be attacked in such indecent insinuations. The evidence of the conversation about Murphy comes from the brother of the deceased. The evidence is, not that Grier approached Gray, but that Gray approached Grier, and that Gray had approached Grier, and that Grier had approached Gray and solicited to be put upon the jury then there might have been something in it. But this is not the case. It is to warrant the supposition that Grier's presence would taint the whole jury. The circumstance was too indubitable both as to time and substance.
He urged, therefore, that the continuance should not be granted.

A FAIR TRIAL DESERVED.

Judge Clarke said that above all things he desired a perfectly fair and impartial trial. He would modify the order just issued by adding "and that the case be continued for this term."

THE COUNSEL FOR THE DEFENSE THEREUPON SAID THEY WOULD IMMEDIATELY MAKE APPLICATION FOR BAIL.

Judge Clarke stated that he would hear the motion for bail one hour later in chambers. He dismissed all the jurors who had been summoned and those drawn in this case.

PROCEEDINGS IN CHAMBERS.

At 11 o'clock Judge Clarke expressed a desire to hear the motion for bail. The lawyers for the defendant announced their readiness to submit sundry affidavits showing that the case was such as would justify the court's granting the application for bail.

WANTS THE WITNESSES.

Solicitor General Hill objected to this mode of procedure. He insisted that witnesses should be introduced and sworn to that he could submit them to a cross-examination. He held that it was not proper to rest the application for bail upon affidavits when witnesses could be produced.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED.

The court concurred with him in this view, and stated that it did not regard the introduction of expert affidavits as a satisfactory method of determining whether or not bail should be allowed.
He would, therefore, require the witnesses to be produced.

COLONEL ELLIS AND JUDGE DORSEY SUGGESTED THAT
THE CASE BE CONTINUED FOR THIS TERM.

Colonel Ellis and Judge Dorsey suggested that the case be continued for this term. They would require all the week to finish it. They would prefer for the court to set a day during the present term for the trial, and indicate the 17th as a suitable time.

POSTPONED TWO WEEKS.

Solicitor-General Hill cheerfully acquiesced in this suggestion, saying that he had no sort of objection to trying the case at the time indicated.
The court decided that the trial should occur Monday, January 17th, and the proceedings came to an end.
